

When: October 30 and November 21, 2019
Where: The University of Massachusetts Club
1 Beacon St, 32nd Floor | Boston, MA 02108

YW Boston's Elevating Lives Series is a curated event series that focuses on areas relating to our mission of eliminating racism and empowering women. Our series convenes thought leaders from across sectors for transformative discussions that help elevate lives.

Our 2019 Elevating Lives Series will focus on strategies and successful interventions that can empower inclusive leaders looking to advance racial and gender equity in Boston.

The making of an inclusive leader: How to drive change in Boston

Wednesday, October 30, 2019

7:30 AM - Registration & coffee | 8:00 to 9:30 AM - Breakfast & program

Inclusive leadership is essential for achieving success in our increasingly diverse world, but how does one become an inclusive leader? Learn from our panel of experts about what it takes to become a more inclusive leader, how to leverage diverse view points, and how to drive lasting change in the City of Boston. YW Boston President and CEO, Beth Chandler, will join panelists:

- Julie Goodridge, Founder & CEO, NorthStar Asset Management, Inc.
- Josh Herron, Health Industries Practice Assurance Partner, PwC
- Donna Levin, Executive Director of Innovation and Entrepreneurship, WPI, and Co-founder of Care.com

Conversation: Understanding what you can do to promote racial equity

Thursday, November 21, 2019

8:30 AM - Registration & coffee

9:00 to 10:30 AM - Breakfast & program

How can each of us contribute to building a more equitable city? Join us for a fireside chat with YW Boston President & CEO Beth Chandler and Dr. Robert W. Livingston, Lecturer of Public Policy at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government, as we explore ways to further racial equity in Boston.
